

Carbon literacy training

Cheshire and Merseyside
Health and Care Partnership

WHAT IS CARBON LITERACY?

'An awareness of the carbon costs & impacts of everyday activities & the ability & motivation to reduce emissions, on an individual, community & organisational basis.'

Climate change poses a major threat to our health as well as our planet. The environment is changing, that change is accelerating, and this has direct and immediate consequences for our patients, the public and the NHS.

So what can we do?

Carbon literacy training is a response to the global climate emergency and Greener NHS Programme. It aims to give people the knowledge and motivation to create a positive shift in how we live, work and behave.

Cheshire and Merseyside Health and Care Partnership has secured funding to deliver carbon literacy training to staff across the partnership.

This group of informed staff will use their training to implement and drive the principles of carbon literacy. In turn they will empower their NHS organisation to reduce the impact of climate change on public health and the environment, save money and reach net carbon zero.
